[DISPATCHES TO THE OREGONIAN.]

EASTERN DATES TO JULY 20.

BY ATLANTIC CABLE.

French Affairs.

PARIS, July 19.—The decree of the 8th and 10th of September, laying three francs and sixty centimes per bale on cotton, has been abrogated.

It is thought Pouyer Quertier will abandon the proposed duties on raw material.

The debate on the Italian question in the Assembly is fixed for Saturday. Dupanguo is expected to speak.

The Purchase System in England.

LONDON, July 19.—Gladstone will state in the House of Commons to-morrow that the Government has determined to abolish the purchase system in defiance of the resistance of the Lords, and failing in this he will resign.

Thurlow Weed in London.

NEW YORK, July 19.—A London letter of the 8th says that Thurlow Weed was not so well as when he left New York, and would leave for home in a few days if not better.

Railway Accident in England.

LONDON, July 19.—The Sheffield express train on the North Midland road collided with a freight train near Chester station. Ten passengers were killed outright and thirty are reported injured, some fatally.

EASTERN STATES.

New York Dispatch.

NEW YORK, July 19.—The committee of King's county Medical Society report 1,354 cases of smallpox during the year ending July 1st, and not but a few fatal cases. The cases for the past month averaged eight per day. Physicians make great efforts at vaccination.

The horse plague has entered the stables of the Brooklyn, City and Coney Island Railroad Company.

The funeral of Gilbert, victim of the Brooklyn whiskey raid, to-day, was largely attended. There is much excitement among revenue officers of that district. There are rumors that extreme restrictive measures will be taken against the illicit whisky region. Gen. Jourdan sent to the President on the subject.

Storm at Memphis.

MEMPHIS, July 19.—There was a storm here last night which surpassed in fury anything witnessed for years. Trees were uprooted and vast damage was done to crops. The night express train, on the Memphis railroad, ran off an embankment, the track being washed away by the flood, near Grant Junction, and killed the engineer and wounded twelve out of fifteen passengers.

Maryland Politics.

BALTIMORE, July 19.—In the Democratic convention, Woodford, the present incumbent, was nominated for Comptroller by acclamation. No committees on resolutions or platform were appointed by the convention. No resolutions of a political character were introduced. A State Central Committee was appointed and the convention adjourned sine die. It is understood the State Central Committee will issue an address to electors, embodying the platform.

CUBA.

The Insurrection.

HAVANA, July 19.—General Palaco telegraphs on the 13th that in an engagement yesterday, 100 insurgents were killed and the rest dispersed. 9 Spaniards were killed and ten wounded.

According to Monillo, correspondent of the Diaro, two expeditions of filibusters have landed in Cuba. Quesada's proclamation announced the sailing of three expeditions in the steamers Virginia and Bolivar, and another. Official confirmation of the second landing is wanted.

CALIFORNIA.

San Francisco Politics.

SAN FRANCISCO, July 20.—The U. S. steamer Wyanda left on a cruise to-day.

The cases of DeYoung Brothers of the Chronicle indicted for libel on R. H. Sinton have gone over for the term in Municipal Court. Chas. DeYoung, in the meantime remains nominally in custody of the Sheriff, pending the action of Judge Wallace of the Supreme Court on application for habeas corpus.

Lew Harris, for many years turnkey of San Quentin, has been dismissed by Lieut.-Gov. Holden on account of a difficulty which he had with Capt. Gilchrist, commander of the watch, Tuesday last.

Hale & Norcross, which went to 170 yesterday, was offered freely this afternoon at 86, and no takers. Rumors of a rich strike in the mine prove canards. The break in this stock weakened the entire list.

POLITICAL NOTES.

The Mobile Register, a leading Democratic paper, edited by an ex-Confederate Colonel, says the "New Departure" "is a double blind, or rather so intended to be—first, to the Radicals, who are to be made to believe that the Democracy accepts that, much of their platform; and second, to the Democrats, to whom it says, 'to be sure, we adhere to the amendments as a binding part of the Constitution, but we are fooling those Rads, and as soon as we get the power we shall wipe them out.' The result is an attempt at double-dealing that does not deceive either party."

A New York dispatch says: The Irish Catholic laborers generally are vehement against Hoffman and blame him for the slaughter of the rioters. They swear that he ought to be hanged, and declare they will no longer vote the Democratic ticket. To-day Hoffman could not get twenty votes from that class. All these, and the 50,000 or 60,000 professional ruffians who form part of our population, are loud in their denunciations of the military, and swear vengeance. The members of the regiment who acted as an escort to the Orangemen are warned not to expose themselves in dangerous quarters of the city.

The editor of the Indianapolis Journal has a letter from Vice President Colfax, in which he denies the statement that he has reconsidered his determination to retire from politics, and says, with the sincerest gratitude to his Republican friends for their long-continued confidence and the warmest hopes for the continued triumph of their principles and their candidates, he does not intend to be a candidate for political honors, but to retire to private life at the end of his present term. In speaking of his health he says: "I am feeling quite well and strong again, and really enjoying rest and relaxation at home such as I have not had for years."

A POINT OF ORDER IN THE CANADIAN PARLIAMENT.—Mr. Dunbar understood his honorable friend to say that the people could not pass along the street without being assaulted by highwaymen. Now, surely, the honorable member from Lake Ontario could not but be aware that the character of every member of the House was affected by such a dam—

Mr. Talbot objected to such unparliamentary language.

Mr. Ross protested against interruption. He was going to say dam—

Mr. Cameron said the honorable member should not swear in that dreadful manner.

Mr. Ross said he wasn't doing anything of the kind, but would be tempted to do so if not allowed to finish his sentence—but such a dam—(order, order!)—dam—(confusion)—he would repeat it—by such a dam—(tremendous uproar.)

Mr. Wright stood up and moved, amid the wildest confusion, that Mr. Ross be expelled from the House for such awful language.

Mr. Ross (black with rage) exclaimed that damaging statements was all that he meant to say when he was interrupted by a fool—

Mr. Talbot—Who's a fool?

Mr. Ross—By a foolish as—

Mr. Cameron—Who's an ass?

Mr. Ross—Foolish assertion of profanity.

LAST NIGHT'S DISPATCHES.

[SPECIAL DISPATCHES TO THE OREGONIAN.]

BY ATLANTIC CABLE.

French Affairs.

PARIS, July 20.—The Siecle is favorable to an income tax.

Gambetta authorized the opening of private letters during his dictatorship.

The budget for 1871 is reduced one hundred and twenty-four millions. The war budget is unaltered. The committee on the budget voted a stamp duty of 10 centimes on bills beyond ten francs.

The Minister of Justice demands the resignation of Divisono.

Miscellaneous News.

LONDON, July 20.—There will be a meeting of Democrats at Hyde Park, Sunday, the anniversary of reform demonstrations.

The Germans will evacuate Ruxinate, allowing invalids to visit the baths.

Leslie is unquestionably elected to Parliament from Monogan. Voting is proceeding. A mob of 3,000 have just entered the town, and troops are hastily dispatched.

EASTERN STATES.

The Orangemen and Irish Catholics.

NEW YORK, July 20.—At a meeting of Gideon Loyal Lodge of Orangemen last night a resolution was adopted thanking Gov. Hoffman, the military and police for protection afforded them during the parade last Wednesday.

At an indignation meeting of Irish Americans of the 19th Ward, last night, Stephen J. Meany in a speech said: "How can we avenge the blood of the men which has been shed? How are we to secure proper protection in this country for men of our own race? Shall Orangemen and Know-Nothingism rule this city? Never! Shall the scenes of Wednesday last be permitted? When he saw the dead on Wednesday his blood curdled. In his soul he prayed God he would live to see the day when the fact would be avenged. It was hard to see armed ruffians striking down innocent men and women for the crime of looking upon foolish Orangemen. Women had been made widows and children orphans for the caprice of one man in Albany, who came to New York to revoke the humane order of the Mayor." (A voice)—"Hang him on a lamp post!" (Many voices)—"No, no." "My friends, I pledge myself that every drop of blood shed on the 12th shall be legally avenged. If there be a law in New York, never again shall such an occurrence be permitted in New York. Never again shall organized ruffians be permitted to assault Irish citizens, who have the right to uphold the Constitution of the United States. [Cheers.] Legislatures must prohibit such processions in the future."

He said a prospectus would soon be issued in Williamsburg to obtain names of native born Americans for an organized Order to be called the United Sons of America. It cannot do less than the Irish House of Commons, which prohibits Orange processions in Ireland. When was an Orangeman found fighting the battles of the Union? Hibernians and Catholics kept aloof from parades that day. If they had not done so there would be a different story to tell. If the law does not vindicate them, I may say something else to you at another time. Governor Hoffman should never receive the votes of Irishmen. Never! Never!

Railroad Projects in California.

SACRAMENTO, July 19.—In the office of Secretary of State to-day there was filed a certificate of incorporation of the San Pablo and Tulare Railroad Company; object, to construct a railroad from Martinez to Los Gatos creek in Fresno county, through San Joaquin and Stanislaus counties. The line to be constructed will be fifty miles in length. Capital stock, $3,700,000. Also, of the Northern Railroad Company, formed to construct an air-line railroad from San Francisco to terminate at some point in Tehama county. Length of road, 210 miles; capital stock, $8,400,000. Directors are the same in both organizations—Leland Stanford, C. P. Huntington, Mark Hopkins, E. H. Miller, Jr., and C. H. Cummings.

The Fair Case.

The writ of supersedeas, deterring the Sheriff from carrying out the sentence of Laura D. Fair, has been received by the Sheriff of San Francisco. The following is the writ:

In the Supreme Court of the State of California.—The People vs. Laura D. Fair.

The People of the State of California to the Sheriff of the city and county of San Francisco, Greeting:

WHEREAS, it appears to us, before our Supreme Court, that Laura D. Fair, now in your custody, was lately convicted in the District Court of the Fifteenth Judicial District, held in and for the city and county of San Francisco, upon an indictment presented against her, of the crime of murder in the first degree, and that upon said conviction, judgment was rendered on the 3d day of June, 1871, by the said District Court, that the said Laura D. Fair on the 28th day of July, A. D. 1871, be hanged by the neck until she is dead;

And whereas, from said judgment of said Court an appeal has been taken by the said Laura D. Fair to our Supreme Court, as appears by the transcript of the proceedings and record of said District Court, now before the Justices of our said Court;

And whereas, in the opinion of our said Court, all proceedings upon said judgment ought to be stayed until the hearing and decision of our said Supreme Court upon said appeal;

And whereas, the said Court has ordered that the execution of said judgment be stayed until such hearing and decision;

Now, therefore, of said judgment be stayed until such hearing and decision;

Now, therefore, we command you that you wholly refrain and desist from the execution of said judgment upon said Laura D. Fair, until the further order of Supreme Court.

Witness, the Hon. A. L. Rhodes, Chief Justice of our said Supreme Court, at Sacramento, this 10th day of July, A. D. 1871.

GEORGE SECKLE.
[Seal.] Clerk Supreme Court.

SCIENCE IN NORTHERN COLLEGES.—All the colleges, from Rutgers to Harvard, show the effects of great changes in their management, but Cornell University is the college where the new American idea respecting education has been most fully exemplified. This idea is, stated roughly, to make it "pay," and not only indirectly and in the long run, but to "pay as it goes." At the commencement here on Friday, as at Rutgers the other day, a new building was founded to be devoted to the teaching of practical arts, and the orator celebrated the event as another triumph of the spirit of the age over superannuated notions. The college of other days, conducted chiefly by clergymen, was for the culture of the few in the so-called, learned professions; the new model is a place where the useful arts are dignified, the sciences elevated above the classics, the doors thrown open to every farmer's and mechanic's boys, and farms and workshops provided where they may earn their living and learn trades. Who can question that this latter system provides as no other can for the material prosperity of this country, or whether, for instance, the young man who won a round of applause at Cornell for his essay on "the control of freshets in the Chemung river," and his classmates, who received the degree of "Bachelor of Veterinary Science," will not be entitled to all a graduate's dignities, privileges and honors, equally with the pale young recluse who astonishes the doctors of divinity with his mastery of ethics and metaphysics?

Washington advices state that it is understood a large force will be put to work at once at Mare Island Navy Yard, for which large appropriations were voted at the last session of Congress.

OREGON.

The Statesman speaks highly of the address of Rev. T. L. Eliot before the Literary Society of Wallamet University on Tuesday evening.

An aged couple, Mr. and Mrs. Marshall, accidentally drove into the Wallamet river near Eugene City on Monday last, and came near drowning.

On Monday the dwelling of M. Levy at Jefferson caught fire and was damaged to the amount of $200. On Tuesday the house of F. M. Lewis, Lewisville, Polk county, was destroyed with its contents. Loss one thousand dollars.

On page 709 of the Code there is a statute which says that offices shall become vacant on the "conviction (of the incumbent) of any offense involving the violation of his oath." The Statesman argues that under this section Bill Watkinds should be suspended from his official functions.

From the Statesman: A woman by the name of Sheppard, who has been married rather often, and is the mother of four children, has been stopping here for some time, and concluding to take up her bed and walk, she did, after selling all her furniture, etc., taking the two girls with her, leaving the two boys, aged 10 and 13 years, to take care of themselves. A kind hearted person has taken charge of them, and any one needing a boy to work, will call at this office for information.

The "woman question" has come up in a practical form at Salem. Mrs. Sawtelle has shown the editor of the Statesman a letter from the Medical Faculty informing her that, on examination, she has passed all the chairs except that of Anatomy, occupied by Dr. Chase. The letter informs her that if she insists on claiming her diploma she will be allowed a second examination; but it seems that matters did not progress amicably between herself and the Professor, and the second examination did not take place. We expect Mrs. Sawtelle's endeavor to master the science of medicine and surgery, and would like to see her succeed in obtaining her diploma. She has successfully passed seven of the eight chairs, she says, and seems to feel aggrieved that the diploma is not awarded.

THE TERRITORIES.

The stage time between Winnemucca and Silver City in 36 hours.

A man named John H. Lynch was crushed to death in a mine in Alturas county, Idaho, a few days ago.

Walla Walla proposes to apply to the Legislature for an extension of her "city limits," so as to include all the "additions."

Fred. Woodworth was shot at Silver City, Owyhee, a few days since by Chas. C. Haynes. The ball took effect in the cheek and jaw. Wound not fatal.

There are parties from Portland in Walla Walla valley who have gone up there for the purpose of purchasing 100,000 bushels of wheat. Sixty cents per bushel is the price now offered.

The Democrats of Boise City elected John Hailey Mayor, a few days since, by 5 majority in a vote 285. The Republicans elected the Treasurer and some of the other officers. Heretofore the town has been largely Democratic.

Judge Lewis, of Idaho, who was swindled out of his office by a forged letter, has been to Washington and had photographic copies of the document taken. He writes that he knows the handwriting, and will see that justice overtakes the forger.

A census of San Juan shows that there are 100 families on the island exclusive of the British and United States military camps. In the American camp there are 100 rank and file; in the British, 85. The total population of the island is about 500 souls.

In May last a little son of Frank Stone, of Walla Walla, was drowned in the Walla Walla river. Search was made for the body, but it was unavailing. A few days ago, two months after the accident, the body was found, much decomposed. It was lodged far above the water in the fork of a tree, from which the river had receded. It had been carried down the river three miles.

CURRENT NOTES.

Mrs. Meagher, having accepted an appointment for the son of Thomas Francis Meagher at the Military Academy, communicated with the lad's relatives in Ireland, where he is now being educated, and they decide that his prospects are much better in the career there open to him than they would be at West Point.

Ziegenmeyer, the lad who murdered and personated Gumbleton, has been identified by the New York broker from whom he obtained his companion's deposit. In prison he has lost the sympathy showered upon him, by his attempt to pass counterfeit money on a little apple seller who has visited the prison for years.

Mrs. T. Wharton, widow of the late Major Harry W. Wharton, U. S. A., residing at Hamilton Place, New York City, was arrested recently on a warrant issued from the Criminal Court in that city, charging her with poisoning General William Scott Ketchum, a retired officer of the United States Army; also with poisoning Eugene Van Ness, book keeper in the banking house of Alexander Brown & Sons.

The German authorities evidently mean to employ all proper means for the conciliation of Alsace and Lorraine. Thus the German Correspondent tells us that several very important public [illegible] execution of which is to be shortly commenced. The principal of these is the canalization of the Moselle, which, according to the estimates, will cost eight millions of thalers (thirty millions of francs), and the excavation of a canal uniting Strasbourg with the Rhine. Some of the intended improvements have been repeatedly promised by the French Government (especially just before an election or a plebiscite), but no serious steps were taken towards their execution.

On the New York Riot.

The Sacramento Union has the following remarks on the riot in New York:

The good sense of the people will approve the course taken against these vindictive rioters. This country offers all people from all nations an asylum with liberty, but it is liberty with law, and those who cannot understand the difference between that and the liberty of licentiousness must be made to do so by the strong arm. A government can give no better proof of weakness than by yielding up the lawful rights of any portion of its citizens to the threats of conspirators and rioters.—If these Orangemen wish to manifest their joy at an event which happened one hundred and eighty years ago, they have an undoubted right to do so in a peaceful way; and the best way to make them ashamed of feeding such a spirit is to leave their conduct to the calm criticism and condemnation of a wholesome public opinion. The laws of the country are respected and obeyed by our own people of native birth. If foreigners refuse, they must be compelled by force. One trial of the strength of the law will suffice, and we shall hear no more of these disgraceful riots forever. The Governors of New York and New Jersey have the moral support of the whole country.

The sting of a bee carries conviction with it. It makes a man a bee-leaver at once.

Trochu's Defense.

A HEROIC FOLLY—THE FOLLIES OF THE MAN OF PARIS—ALL THAT FRANCE DID WAS IN SPITE OF HIM.

[From the London Saturday Review.]

Trochu reveals to the world that he never believed in the defense of Paris at all. He thought it a mere piece of heroic folly. He utterly disbelieved in all the efforts of the armies of the provinces. He kindly telegraphed to Gambetta, at the moment when the Army of the Loire was ready to act, that modern armies cannot be improvised, and all that France and Paris did was done in spite of him and against his judgment. His famous plan turns out, as his critics so often insinuated during the siege, that it would no plan at all. He describes himself as having had a vague idea that a sortie toward Rouen might be of some use; but at most he seems to have hoped that if he got to Rouen he could send a little [illegible] Paris. What would have happened afterward, or how he, with the provincial armies in which he disbelieved, could have resisted the Germans, he seems neither to have known or cared. He even got so far in childishness as to treat it as a grievance against the Germans that, when he tried to fight them, they would insist in using their artillery against his troops. If they had played the game of war according to the rules he liked, and had abstained from using their guns, then he and his men would have done wonders. But they most unhandsomely kept on firing away at his poor soldiers, and so, of course, his plan failed. Paris is too [illegible]ble now to care much for what happened to it six months ago; but those who suffered during the siege, who bore privation bravely, and sent those dearest to them to the [illegible] and the field, must hear with profound indignation that their fortunes were committed to the guidance of a man who thought the whole defense a piece of heroic folly, and whose plan was that the enemy should abstain from bringing his artillery to bear upon the columns advancing to attack him. The Republic is discredited in the most serious degree by such revelations, and the follies of the Man of Sedan are eclipsed by the follies of the Man of Paris.

The Daily Oregonian.

FRIDAY MORNING, JULY 21, 1871.

The Academy, College and University.

Probably there are not many among us who know how comparatively flimsy is our own much-boasted system of common schools and colleges when placed alongside of the solid unity of the German system of education. It is well said that the weakness of our educational system is at the very point where that of Germany is strongest—that is, in the work done preparatory to the University. The Gymnasia, combining our Academies and the lower classes of our Colleges, or so-called Universities, are the strength of the German system and the pride of the nation. A letter from Berlin to the New York Tribune gives the following statement of the gymnasium course:

> I need not review the whole course of a gymnasium. Suffice it to say that it compasses in the last three of its nine years: In German, Lessing, Schiller and Goethe; in French, various authors compiled for the purpose; in Latin, Cicero, Virgil, Horace, Livy, Tacitus and Latin conversation; in Greek, Xenophon and Plutarch, then Homer, the Odyssey before the Iliad, Plato and Sophocles; in English, I observe Dickens' "Christmas Carol," which, if it isn't a classic in style, is certainly one of the affections of the people. Here are furnished, then, nine years of Latin and French, seven of English and Greek, and I almost forgot to mention four of Hebrew, which is the only study not insisted upon. No wonder that the Germans make their university course entirely elective, when their gymnasia and real schools carry instruction to so high a point and vouchsafe so little election. Even singing is not elective, unless one can show a physician's certificate for vocal disability. A gymnasium of from 300 to 500 scholars employs about 25 male teachers and charges 25 thalers per year ($20) payable quarterly. The final examinations are to be written and are exceedingly difficult.

The thoroughness of this instruction and discipline is unequalled by anything in our Academies or Colleges. The amount and extent of work required would daunt the majority of American students, especially when it is remembered that the university course, proper, would come after what is above enumerated. The writer from whose letter the extract is taken says that an observer must feel that back of everything else the magnificent eminence to which Germany has risen during the last fifty years comes of the thorough intellectual training that is enjoyed by the German youth.

As pertinent to this matter we may mention an able article by Professor Dimmock of Williams College, Mass., published in an Eastern periodical. He talks of our Academies, [illegible] Colleges, and makes a comparison as to advantages in them and the large Colleges like Harvard and Yale. He says that neither Harvard nor Yale is yet a real University, but the former he thinks will change into one. He argues that it is desirable to have one or two Universities in our land, thoroughly manned and equipped, and does not doubt that they will rise to do that work in education which seems necessary to "supplement the other institutions." At the same time, bearing in mind the example of the German system, he insists that if the so-called University course is to take the place of, instead of being additional to, the scheme of instruction and discipline that is substantially the work of our best Academies and smaller Colleges, it will be a great calamity. He deems it the "appropriate work of the smaller Colleges to give thorough instruction for four years, in such studies as the general agreement of the best educators pronounces best adapted to discipline and inform as yet immature minds. They must be content with doing the less popular and brilliant, but important work. They must design their curriculum for the best general culture of average minds, and aim, year by year, at making the instruction given by their Professors higher and better, and the work of the students more accurate and thorough—to arrange the best course that they can give, and to secure in it high attainment. It is true that, in this way, marked peculiarities of mental temperament will not be much regarded, but where special attention and deviation from such a course is needed, it can best be done at those institutions whose circumstances admit and whose policy adopts great variety of optional studies."

At the same time it is cogently argued by this writer that the smaller Colleges must be prepared to have the instruction they give no less valuable and thorough, within the range prescribed, than that at the Universities. This is a sound conclusion. After thorough training in a prescribed course the student may then, as in Germany, advance, if he chooses to the elective studies of the real University.

Another remark seems necessary. By referring to the extract quoted from the New York [illegible] correspondence it will be seen that the ancient classics are largely relied on for educational training. Is it a fact of no significance that the most rapidly progressive of European powers, and indeed we may say the most rapidly progressive in many respects, of all the nations of the world, goes back to the classics as the real basis of intellectual discipline and educational progress? Are those among us who talk of this course of study being "out of date," sure that they are not sadly in error?

The feelings of the New York rioters, it may be supposed, are pretty well expressed in the inflammatory and vindictive speech of [illegible] to-day. The speech is a cry of rage and a cry for revenge. Its author is editor of the Irish American, a paper published in New York City. From the tone of his speech it is evident that the rioters think themselves entitled to supreme rule in New York; hence this howl of rage at their defeat. Legislatures must prohibit Orange processions. Let us see the Legislature in America that will dare to do it!

A correspondent of one of the daily papers writes letters urgently advocating the reservoir system for supplying the city with water. Probably he is "down on" the Holly system for the reason that if it is adopted here the present water company will be unable to sell their reservoirs to the city. Is the writer of this letter the individual whom the Herald has asserted to be an agent of the water company holding a seat in the Common Council? We believe the general sentiment here is one of opposition to the reservoir plan, and we know that that plan is being abandoned in Eastern cities.

The Herald hadn't courage to express any opinions of its own in regard to the New York riot, but after the lapse of a week it quotes from the San Francisco Examiner articles written in an attempt to show that this is not a free country and that no organization of men obnoxious to the ruling class in New York should be permitted to parade. The Democratic press, generally, takes this position. This is the way that party advocates liberty and the securing all classes in the enjoyment of equal rights.

PACIFIC COAST DISPATCHES.

[SPECIAL DISPATCHES TO THE OREGONIAN.]

CALIFORNIA.

From San Francisco.

SAN FRANCISCO, July 20.—This evening three men riding in a buggy on the corner of Folsom and Fourth streets, collided with a heavy truck. The buggy was smashed to pieces and all the occupants injured. R. Crosky, furniture dealer No. 30 Fourth street, who was driving, had two ribs broken; Dr. Adams, sitting next to him was slightly injured, and a man named Burns had his back broken in two places, and cannot live many hours.

Sheriff Miller, of Butte county, arrived here this evening with Bob McKenzie, convicted of grand larceny and sentenced to eighteen months in San Quentin; Kim Chow, manslaughter, four years, and Eusebio Escoba, manslaughter, six years.

This evening the Independent Democratic Friedlander Committee met with closed doors, and soon got into an interminable wrangle over a motion by Mullan that they go on with the primaries, and if the citizens' Democratic Convention appointed a County Committee, the County Committee elected at the primaries should act in conjunction with them. The discussion waxed so bitter that the whole movement threatened to break up in a row, when Friedlander made his appearance and was received with hearty applause. He informed them that a proposition had been made informally by the Committee of 24, representing the citizens or McCoppin Committee, invited by a petition of voters to nominate a municipal ticket on the people's party plan, should meet a Committee of the Independents to confer on a basis of consolidation. He proposed that a committee of five be appointed to confer with the committee of twenty-four, which was done. The committee consists of John Rodgers, C. Mathew, B. Isterly, J. T. Dixon and Capt. John Mullan, with Friedlander added. Adjourned with cheers. This particularly reduces the divisions in the party to two only. The Democratic County Committee has been in session all the evening up to 10 o'clock. The result of their deliberations are not made public, but it is understood they are discussing ways and means for healing wounds and uniting all the factions.

The Germans are holding an enthusiastic Republican meeting this evening.

A fire broke out this evening in the 3d story of a Chinese lodging house on Commercial street, adjoining the old California Hotel; damage $1,500 or $2,000.

INTERIOR CALIFORNIA DISPATCHES.

VALLEJO, July 20.—A large Republican meeting under the auspices of the Boys in Blue, is being held this evening at Armory Hall. The Hon. C. B. Deano, Gen. John B. Frisbie, Tuttle, Vandusen, Van Dyke and Bromley are announced to address the enthusiastic crowd.

VISALIA, July 20.—The Republican joint convention of Tulare and Kern counties have nominated Tipton Lindsey for the Assembly. The Democratic Convention nominated Judge Berkhalter, both of Visalia. The principal issue seems to be fence or no fence law, in which party is almost lost sight of.

NEVADA.

OREANA, Nev., July 20.—An accident occurred in the Monta mine, White Cloud district, on the 18th. White Denny and Campbell were drifting forty-five feet under ground, a portion of the hanging wall gave way. Campbell had his collar bone broken and otherwise injured. Danny is bruised but his injuries are slight. Campbell was sent to San Francisco where his parents reside.

Alexander Dumas as Preacher.

Alexander Dumas, the matchless egotist, the spendthrift and the voluptuary, is not exactly the man from whom we should expect a rational view of the present situation in France. Yet Shakespere sometimes puts the profoundest wisdom into the mouths of his clowns and court-fools, and so Dumas may assert his privilege to be sensible while men of more weight and character in France are acting and talking like fools. This he certainly does in a letter on the state of affairs in France, which is not merely in the liveliest and most sparkling vein of the famous dramatist, but which actually seems to be dictated by real patriotism and sober convictions.

For instance, who else could so epigrammatically depict the instability and fickleness of the French people as Dumas does in the following paragraph?—

> Yet, humble servants of those fictions, we cut off the head of Louis XIV., to whom we then raise an expiatory monument, which later on we allow to be destroyed. We proclaim as Cæsar a lieutenant of artillery, whom we leave to die on an English island, whose ashes we bring back in triumph, while we demolish and rebuild the column. And when M. Thiers asks for twenty-four hours of reflection before declaring war against Prussia, we call him a Prussian and wish to pull down his house, and when his house is really demolished we vote a million to rebuild it, and now that he has saved us we ask how we shall get rid of him. And we let thirty thousand of our sons be slain for the pleasure of Gaudissart, which is hard; and we pay five milliards for a phrase of M. Favre, which is dear; and we accuse Trochu for treason, because he was willing to make us exterminate ourselves, which is mad. And we support the siege of Paris like heroes, and we will not permit the Prussians, as conquerors, to drink a glass of beer in a cafe; and we allow Paris to be occupied and pillaged and burned by bad women, by hurdy-gurdy players by Bohemian painters, by filthy journalists by Italians of La Villette, and by Poles of all lands. And to conclude, behold us now with might and main calling out for our exiled Princes; in other words, we are declaring in the face of the world that for eighty years we have not known what we are doing; that 1789 is a misunderstanding; that 1804 is an error; that 1830 is a bêtise; that 1848 is a fault; that the 10th of December is a distraction; that the 4th of September is a lark of gamins, that it all counts for nothing; that it was done for fun, and that we are about to begin again.

But this is not what struck us as peculiarly strange in a letter written by Dumas. It is where he preaches the wholesome doctrine that individual reformation must precede national reform, that we are surprised. And this sermon is so timely, so courageous, and so pithy, that we quote it as follows:

> It is now or never. The situation offers at least this advantage, that it authorizes us to recognize our past errors, to condemn and execute them publicly, thanking God for the lesson he gives us. . . . All the world cries, "Where is the man who will save us—we want a man." Don't look so far for this man; you have him at hand; this man, it is you, it is I, it is each one of us. Be each one a man, and the Providential man, the great man whom we always end by overturning and crushing, will become completely useless. How to constitute oneself a man. Nothing harder, if one knows not how to will it; nothing easier if one wills it. . . . It is not a question of the mass; let us see how to constitute the individual, for it is necessary that the individual that is the ruler of himself should rise out of this great tempest. The being self-contained and self-knowing, knowing whence he comes and whither he goes, what he wills and ought to do with his life and with the group of lives dependent on him, having his ideal and his absolute; the individual, in fact, does not exist in France or at most is very rare. . . . We absolutely put these questions to ourselves. Is it decidedly needful, yes or no, that there be a God, a morality, a society, a family, a human solidarity? Ought man to work, to know how to progress? Ought women to be respected, united, associated with us? Is truth the end? Is justice the means? Is the good absolute? Yes, yes; a thousand times yes. States, societies, governments, families, individuals, can they, to be useful, durable and fruitful, do away with these elements? No, no; a thousand times no. Then it is necessary that this should be, and that those should be exterminated, be they our brothers, be they our sons, who will not have it so. Let each one of us, or, to speak more truly, one out of two or three among us, be resolved that this shall be, and in ten years from this time you shall have paid your milliards, shall have retaken Alsace and Lorraine, and you shall be the first people in the universe. That done let your princes be without or within, cadet branch or old branch, whether you have royalty, empire or republic, will be without importance. Your government will be what you are. When the nation is strong, when it knows well what it wants, all its governments are good, they oppress it no more, they express it always. Yes, it is this consensus of ten years that I demand to begin with, after which things will go alone. Have this courage for ten years, and eternity is yours. It is very difficult, it is very long. You do not perceive in yourselves the necessary will; you like better to count on the bees, or on the cock, or on the eagle, or on the lily. Then, it is the deluge. I forewarn you of it, and we who are in the ark, we have nothing more to do than to watch you swim—and die.

When Dumas turns preacher the lightest-headed of Frenchmen ought to stop and consider. The sermon that comes from such a source will certainly find plenty of listeners, whether they will profit by what they hear or not.

Narrow Guage Railways.

From Mr. H. Holbrook of New Westminster, British Columbia, who is returning from a tour through Canada, and who called upon us yesterday, we obtain some items of interest respecting narrow gauge railways. He passed over a narrow guage road from Toronto to Uxbridge, a distance of forty-one miles, and found its operation all that could be desired. It is the intention to build this road on to Lake Nipessing, about one hundred miles further. The rate of speed is about equal to that on ordinary roads. The cost is $15,000 per mile. In this is included full equipment for the road, side tracks, rolling stock, telegraph, etc., etc. On this road the guage is three feet six inches. The iron used weighs forty-five pounds to the yard, instead of sixty or seventy, as on ordinary roads.

Both curves and grades on this road are such as would be impossible on those of the usual guage; hence the possibility of constructing narrow guage roads through a broken or mountainous country where the cost of broad guage would render the latter out of the question. The facility with which roads of narrow guage can be constructed will give railway advantages to settlements which otherwise could not obtain them, and will thus do much for the general development of many sections of the country. The building of this narrow guage road in Canada has opened a new district, which already suggests much improvement and building at Toronto.

The Preparation for the Riot.

The New York Tribune of July 8th had the following:

> At the meeting of the Convention of Irish Societies, held last evening in Hibernia Hall, the special business was to consider what action would be taken by the Societies if the Orangemen should celebrate the 12th of July by a parade and picnic. None were admitted except delegates, even members of the Societies being excluded. Around the door several hundred of the latter collected, and warmly discussed the question of Orange celebration in New York, and the "duty" of Roman Catholic Irishmen in such an event. One of the delegates, it is understood, coolly proposed that a committee be appointed to wait on the Mayor to request him to issue a proclamation prohibiting the Orangemen from turning out; and, if he did not do so, that then the Societies should "take the matter in hand," and settle it at once and forever, by "cutting down" every Orangeman to be found in the city with an emblem of Orangeism about him. The delegate also suggested that in case the Mayor should not issue the proclamation the party in power should lose the support of the Irish Roman Catholic element. Several motions were made of a somewhat similar nature, but what decision was reached could not be ascertained. Judging from the language and temper manifested by the crowd about the door, it appears probable, if the Orange party insist on having their procession, they will be in serious danger of an attack.

The "Harmonious" in California.

A number of Democratic papers in California refuse to support Governor Haight. Among these is the Mendocino Democrat. Unlike the majority of the anti-Haight papers that wheeled into line after abusing the Gubernatorial candidate like a pickpocket, the Democrat refuses to "eat dirt." It finds itself without a party, and says:

> "What are we to do? Certainly we cannot talk for Haight, for what we have said of him was based on indisputable fact—fact patent as that rain drops to the earth and ships sail upon the water. We may 'spike' our guns, say naught against Mr. Haight for the canvass, but most assuredly we cannot do more."

It then proceeds to score Haight for his inconsistency: "One thing is certain, we cannot 'eat dirt'—cannot take back what we have honestly said. It is a noteworthy fact that one of the so-called amendments to the Federal Constitution, now accepted as law by the platform of our late State Convention, was condemned by Governor Haight as unconstitutional, null and void, and was so written of by that gentleman in a special message to the last Legislature."

Gen. James S. Negley, M. C., Pittsburg, Pa., writes Nov. 10, '70: I have no hesitation in recommending the "Averill Chemical Paints" to those who regard economy and durability. It weathered our smoky atmosphere better than any Paints I have tested. The colors are rich and variable. Altogether I find them the CHEAPEST AND BEST."

"JACKSONVILLE, FLORIDA CUSTOM HOUSE.—It looks as fresh and glossy as when first applied. I do not believe any LEAD AND OIL CAN EQUAL IT. WM. P. DOCKRAY."

I have carefully compared the cost and merits of the Averill Paints with White Lead and Oil and find 93 cents per gallon in favor of the former.

CITY.

NOT GOING BACK NOR STANDING STILL.—We have heard much croaking in the last few months about the danger of the prices of real estate in this city going back. Many, too, who have not believed that there would be a decline, have yet believed that there could be no advances from the prices of the first of May. The rise in values during last winter was so rapid and considerable that most people who had run only in the old Oregon grooves, thought there must come a revulsion or a standing still of real estate values for a year or two at least, in order to let the country catch up with the city. These people were all, however, mistaken. It is true that for the last three months there has been no speculative movement in real estate; but it is equally true that there has been quite a steady enhancement of values, and in nearly every case of sale which has fallen within our knowledge, the price obtained has been a larger one than the seller would have taken last April or May. This is especially true of transactions in Holladay's Addition. We know of several cases in which private property, bought in that tract last April, has since been resold at a good advance [illegible]. For instance, Mr. Geo. V. J[illegible] bought in April a block fronting on the avenue, for which he paid $5,000. His friends, many of them, told him he could not get his money back under two years; he was confident he could sell at a profit. They were mistaken and he was right. A few [illegible] ago he sold five of the eight lots in his block [illegible]. He has got his money back with a [illegible] and still has three excellent lots in the [illegible]. This is not an exceptional case in regard [illegible] advance of [illegible]. We know of other parties who have [illegible] fair advance on purchases [illegible] hard to sell. Similar [illegible] have taken place in this city, though they have created no noise. It may be set down as certain that city property is still marching on.

WANTS TO SEE 'EM.—The Bulletin has a correspondent who don't go for the Holly system, nor for any other which does not employ reservoirs. He says: "Give us reservoirs that we can see what kind of water flows through the iron arteries [poetic] in the depths of the ground, to be used by our wives and babies." It is evident that this correspondent has become so accustomed to seeing the little wiggling, playful animalcules in the water he uses, that he couldn't enjoy a draught in which he couldn't see 'em. He not only wants to make sure that the water shall have animalcula, (reservoirs invariably breed them) but he wants to be able to witness the [illegible] sportive gambols of the little fellows as they go careering down the throats of his 'wives and babies.' We should never cease to grieve should we become [illegible] at any time that we had contributed in ever so small a [illegible] toward depriving a fellow being of such an innocent delight; and we therefore propose a compromise. Let the rest of us have pure water in which we can't see the bugs and things after which the correspondent hankers, and let the city build and maintain a private reservoir for the correspondent, in which he can turn the water to be used by himself and his 'wives and babies' and let stand until it shall attain to the requisite state of liveliness and suit [illegible] his educated taste. As for the rest of us [illegible] water that won't turn our stomachs [illegible] pool to which aquatic [illegible] from their calisthenic exercise.

OUR TRAGEDY ILLUSTRATED.—There is in the National Police Gazette an illustration of the late Ward-Graham murder in this city, which would make even Graham laugh, if he could rise up in his winding sheet and see it. The picture represents a tall man standing, in the traditional judge's forum, with spectacles on his nose and a bald-headed wig on his head. His two arms are extended with five exclamation points at the end of each. Ward, the shootist, is represented as a white man with a mustache and venerable-looking cheek whiskers, and standing in a stage tragic attitude, blazing away with a pocket pistol. Graham is all over a plantation darkie, with striped shirt, striped breeches, monstrous thick lips, spindle legs set in the middle of feet that never could have been made for less than number [illegible] shoes, (boots impracticable, on [illegible] heels.) He is anything in the picture but a [illegible] nigger, a thing which the Gazette explains him to have been. The only thing in which the Gazette could have improved the illustration would have been to introduce in the foreground somewhere, a tall, graceful and beautiful girl with distracted blonde ringlets, to stand for the girl whom Graham is charged with having [illegible]. We can't [illegible] how the imaginative artist could have overlooked so important a feature of the picture.

PORTLAND LIBRARY.—The following list contains the newest and latest works received and placed in the Portland Library: [illegible]; Culture and Religion, in Some of Their Relations, by J. C. Shairp; The History of Civilization, in seven vols., by Amos Dean, LL. D.; Fragments of Science for Unscientific People, by John Tyndall, LL. D., F. R. S.; Sartor Resartus, by Thomas Carlyle; The French Revolution, by Thomas Carlyle; Faust, a Tragedy, by Johann Wolfgang Von Goethe, translated by Bayard Taylor, two parts; Ingoldsby Legends, or Mirth and Marvels, by Thomas Ingoldsby, Esq., (Rev. R. Richard Harris Barham), illustrated by Cruikshank; A Lost Love, by Ashford Owen; Blanche Gilroy, a Girl's Story, by Mrs. Margaret Hosmer; The Book of Travels of a Doctor of Physic; Daisy Ward's Work, by Mary W. McLain; Little Sunshine's Holiday, a Picture from Life, by the author of John Halifax; Common Sense in the Household, by Marion Harland; The Wife of a Vain Man, by Marie Sophie Schwartz; Ralph, the Heir, by Anthony Trollope; The Marquis of Villemer, by George Sand; Something to Do, a novel; Young America Abroad, Up the Rhine, by Oliver Optic.

SHIPPING ITEMS.—The [illegible] sailed from Newport, Wales, June 19th, for Portland, Oregon.

The bark Whistler cleared at San Francisco for this port July 8th, and sailed on the 12th.

The ship Garibaldi sailed from Hong Kong June 7th for this port, and is now, therefore, 43 days out. She has 134 passengers.

The bark Edward James will go down the river to-day to complete loading for San Francisco.

RUNAWAY ACCIDENT.—We learned late last evening that a serious accident had occurred to Mr. L. J. Bullard and wife, out on the Macadamized road. The team which Mr. Bullard was driving ran away, smashing the buggy, injuring Mrs. Bullard, how seriously we did not learn. Mr. Bullard clung to the reins and was dragged some distance without being much hurt, though he had his clothes mostly torn off.

COUNTY ASSESSMENT.—Mr. Dolan, assessor, will be at his office at the Court House to-day, to receive statements of assessable property. Owners should remember that where they fail to return sworn statements, their property will be referred to the Board of Equalization for their action thereon. It will be much the easiest and best way to call and see Mr. Dolan at the Court House.

THE DEUTSCHE ZEITUNG.—Mr. Landenberger, of the Oregon Deutsche Zeitung, is about again after five week's illness. His paper was discontinued, being unable to find a German printer. We learn from him that publication will be commenced again in a [illegible].

REAL ESTATE AT GUARDIAN'S SALE.—Mr. Levi Anderson, Guardian of the minor [illegible] heirs, advertises to sell at auction, on Saturday, July 22d, lots 7, 8 and 9 in block 85, and lot 2 in block 88, Raleigh's Addition—Oscar Kilbourn, auctioneer.

DISCHARGED.—The jury in attendance upon the U. S. District Court, was discharged Wednesday evening, and Marshal Young finished paying them off yesterday.

PHILHARMONIC SOCIETY.—An important meeting of this Society will be held, this evening, at 8 o'clock. A full attendance is requested.

TO SAIL.—The steamship Oriflamme, Floyd, Commander, will sail for San Francisco at seven o'clock this evening.

UNLOADED.—The bark Goodell has completed the discharge of her cargo.

PERSONAL.

Coll. VanCleve of the Albany Register has been in town two or three days, on a visit. He looks about as healthy and satisfied as the majority of Oregon editors.

Several of the distinguished visitors from the East who have been among us for the last week or two will take passage on the steamer this evening en route for home.

This is especially true of transactions in Holladay's Addition. We know of several cases in which property, bought in that tract last April, has since been resold at a good advance—coin for the tenth. Mr. Geo. W. "SADLY ILLUSTRATED."—There is in the late Police Gazette an illustration of the late Graham murder in this city, which would make Graham laugh, if he could rise up in his winding sheet and see it. The picture represents a tall man standing in the traditional stage dress, with spectacles on his nose and a wig on his head. His two arms are ... with five exclamation points at the end ... Ward, the shootist, is represented as a man with a mustache and venerable whiskers, and standing in a stage ... blazing away with a pocket pistol ... all over a plantation darkie, with ... striped breeches, monstrous thick ... legs set in the middle of feet that ... have been made for less than number ... (boots impracticable, on account ...). He is anything in the picture but a ... or anything which the Gazette expected to have ... The only thing in which the Gazette could have improved the illustration ... all have been to introduce in the foreground ... a tall, graceful and beautiful ... distracted blonde ringlets to stand for ...—Graham is charged with having ... We can't understand how the imagination could have overlooked so important a ... of the picture.

Midsummer Maladies.

The hot solar rays that ripen the harvests generate many distressing diseases. If the liver be at all predisposed to irregularities, this is the season in which bilious attacks may be anticipated. A weak stomach, too, is weaker in the summer months, and the loss of vitality through the pores by excessive perspiration is so great, that a wholesome tonic, combining also the properties of a diffusive stimulant, is in many cases necessary to health, and under no circumstances should be dispensed with by the sickly and debilitated. Of all the preparations intended thus to refresh, sustain and fortify the human frame there is none that will compare with Hostetter's Celebrated Stomach Bitters. They have been weighed in the balance of experience and not found wanting, having been recommended, from the first as a great medicinal specific, not as a beverage, and in spite of interested opposition from innumerable quarters, stand, after a twenty years' trial, at the head of all proprietary medicines intended for the prevention and cure of all ordinary complaints of the stomach, the liver, the bowels and the nerves. In the unhealthy districts bordering the great rivers of the South and West, Hostetter's Bitters may be classed as the standard one for every species of intermittent or remittent fever. The people who inhabit those districts, place the most implicit confidence in the preparation—a confidence that is increased every year by the results of its operation.

As bitters, so called, of the most pernicious character, are springing up like fungi on every side, the public is hereby forewarned against the dram-shop fraud. Ask for Hostetter's Bitters, see that the label, etc., are correct, and remember that the genuine article is never sold in bulk, but in bottles only.

Says the Chicago Evening Mail: The New York Free Trader, the organ of the American Free Trade League, rolls "as a sweet morsel under its tongue," the protest of a few of the boot and shoe manufacturers of New England against the tariff on leather and a few other articles that enter into their production. It publishes the protest in a supplementary sheet, and then has in addition four of five different editorial articles based upon that protest. Among all the boss shoemakers in New England it would be very strange if there were not at least as many as three or four hundred Democrats. As Democrats they would feel under obligations to sign such a protest, prepared for them at the Free Trade League office in New York, and sent around to them at the expense of the League, as we understand it was: And we understand further that it was only by carefully striking out all allusion to the repeal of the tariff on boots and shoes that they were induced to sign it. While they were willing that leather, lastings and serges, shoe pegs, thread and wax, should be put on the list as raw material, they would not consent to one cent reduction on the boots and shoes themselves. And this is the history of the famous boot and shoe-makers' protest, over which the free traders have made such an ado.

Says the Sacramento Union: If Gov. Hoffman is to have guns fired, drums beat and high resolves in his favor all over the country for proclaiming the right of the people to hold peaceful processions, what should not be said and done in favor of Gov. Randolph of New Jersey, who first showed Hoffman the right way and how to take it? In sooth, there is not much occasion for deifying either of them, considering that they did only their plain and simple duty. But what shall be said of the dirty demagogy of Mayor A. Oakey Hall and his Chief of Police, for having issued the order forbidding the procession, lest offense might be taken by the wretched mob? Such creatures are too mean to be sketched in genteel language, and we leave them to the operations of silent contempt.

The Sacramento Bee learns that Judge John B. McConnell, of Nevada, Jeff. Wilcoxson and Judge A. Heuley of Sacramento, have repudiated Haight and declared for Booth. These are old Democratic war horses, and their "new departure" will occasion much surprise. McConnell does not believe that Haight is a good Democrat, and therefore "falls down" upon him. He is a shrewd observer and has a premonition of coming events.

FINANCE AND COMMERCE.

PORTLAND, Thursday, July 20, 1871.

Gold at New York has been a little unsteady during the week, getting as high at one time as $113½, but closing yesterday, at 112½.

Currency quotations are to-day, 89c buying and 90c selling.

Exchange—On San Francisco ½ per cent; on New York 1½ per cent; telegraphic transfers on New York, 1½@1¾ per cent premium.

Interest on loans, short loans, 1 per cent.

There is very little reason to complain of the state of the money market. Collections are made in the city with moderate ease, while country bills due are generally met with commendable promptitude. Monetary affairs seem to have recovered from the slight uneasiness which prevailed a month ago. There is no longer any fear that real estate prices will go back on the advance of the last year, and the assurance gives great relief to nearly all classes. The disbursements of large sums of money by the railroad companies operating on both sides of the Willamette river and north of the Columbia, are serving to make money rather plenty among the producing and laboring people, and our merchants are receiving great benefit from the same sources. With good crop prospects, ahead, there is every reason for anticipating a prosperous fall season for nearly all branches of industry and trade.

The business of the city continues solid and prosperous. There is not quite the rush of trade that we had a month ago, yet there is about as much as our business men care for during the extremely warm weather prevailing.

AGRICULTURAL GOODS—Business keeps up remarkably well, considering the advanced state of the season. Stocks are, however, badly broken. Harvesting machinery is pretty well cleaned out, but the season is also about over. There is yet a good demand for threshers, with only a moderate stock on hand. Dealers will have but few machines of any kind to carry over. There are some styles which are not considered staple and which do not meet with general approval, that will remain on hand at the close of the season. Headers of largest sizes, have gone off well, being the favorite machines of the harvesting descriptions.

BUILDING MATERIALS—Lumber continues scarce, but there are a number of new mills to go into operation, [illegible] of the old mills are resuming work. A more plentiful supply [illegible] for the fall season. Lime is more abundant than during the early part of the summer, though, there is not by any means, too great a supply in the market.

GROCERIES—[illegible] prices ruling remarkably steady, and business very fair, with good stocks on hand.

DRY GOODS—In this line prices are excited, all descriptions of cottons and woolens have advanced again, materially. The advance in woolens is particularly marked. Our price list is revised throughout.

HARDWARE—Business is above the average for the season of the year, owing, unquestionably, in a large degree, to the construction of the railroads in our vicinity. Prices of staple articles are firm—especially nails and rope. No change to note in quotations.

PRODUCE—Flour is still quoted by our dealers at $6 50 for extras, but business is very dull. San Francisco has an over supply, and at present, we are not sending anything to other markets. Our grain quotations are largely nominal.

PROVISIONS—Business in this line is very sluggish, and we have no quotations to change except for eggs, which have advanced to 30cts, jobbing.

WOOL—Considerable quantities are yet received and sent away. Willamette valley is worth from 35 to 38; Eastern Oregon, 34@36. These quotations are maintained firmly. About 3,500 sks have thus far been sent to San Francisco, and at latest reliable newspaper accounts, the prices ranged from 38 to 42c as extremes. The telegraphic quotations, yesterday, were 37½@40c.

By the mails we have the San Francisco Commercial Herald of the 14th, from which we take the following extracts:

The receipts of certain articles of Oregon produce from January 1st to date, have been as follows: Flour, qr sks, 431,635; wheat, sks, 29,902; oats, sks, 4,903; salmon, bbls, 2,181; hf bbls, 337; pkgs, 14,021; bacon, pkgs, 2,080; beef, bbls, 166; cs 30; hams, pkgs, 194; butter, pkgs, 630; lard, pkgs, 414; pork, bbls, 1,210; dried apples, pkgs, 1,053; ripe do, bxs 27,431.

Flour—Most of our readers will be surprised at the magnitude of our city flour stock at the close of the harvest year, June 30th, amounting by actual count to 75,500 bbls. At least two thirds of this is the product of Oregon mills, our own local millers carrying very little stock of either wheat or flour. This large stock accumulation is the fruit of the high speculative prices instigated in the spring and early summer by the fear of drought and contingent advancing rates. The extreme figures reached were about May 1st, $7 75@8 25, at which round purchases were made on speculation. This checked all export inquiry, yet called out heavy supplies from Oregon, and which from that time to this have accumulated in our warehouses, the demand ever since being trifling, and sales confined to a mere jobbing trade. Recently, Oregon extras are offered at $6@6 25, without finding buyers; the only export inquiry being from China, and that limited, both as to price and quantity—say to $6 50@5 per bbl. It is hardly to be expected that an outlet for this surplus stock can be found at any considerable advance upon these figures, as the Hong Kong market is seldom open to us at any improvement on those prices. It will be seen from the accompanying table, that the interior supplies of California flour have materially diminished this, as compared with the previous harvest year, while that from Oregon more than makes up the deficiency. The following were the receipts of Oregon flour from July 1, 1869, to July 1, 1871:

	1869-70 bbls.	1870-71 bbls.

At the commencement of the year high hopes were entertained that our wheat crop would be the largest and finest ever garnered in this State, but these hopes were almost demolished by the lack of sufficient rains, which following a dry year, proved very disastrous to our farming interests. It was feared, at one time, that the crops would prove almost a total failure; but more precise investigation showed that only certain districts had been visited by so great misfortune. In others the yield will be abundant and of fine quality, while the increased acreage sown to wheat will give a surplus for exportation of not less than 100,000 tons, which will probably be increased to 125,000 or 150,000 by receipts from Oregon, where the crops are unusually good, although that State has recently shipped considerable quantities of wheat direct to foreign markets. Our food stuff trade with Australia and domestic Atlantic ports has declined very seriously, and we must look mainly to England for a market, while exports to China, South America, and some other countries are rather on the increase. The direct Oregon shipments have been as follows from Portland to the United Kingdom, direct:

Cleared.	Name of Vessels.	Destination.	Ctls.	Value.
July 27, 1870	Herman Doctor	Cork	11,266	$21,519

It has been estimated that from the largely increased area sown to wheat the yield would have reached 10,000,000 centals this year, had the season proved propitious. The stock of flour on hand in this city, and which must be carried into the new harvest year, is 75,500 barrels, mainly Oregon, and is the largest surplus ever held here.

The Columbia river salmon catch, being of superior quality, is well suited for export, and Hapgood, Hume & Co.'s brand is held at $2@3 ⅌ doz for 2½ lb tins, respectively; hf bbls same, $4 50.

There has been a scarcity of Oregon meats in the market, dealers there having held for high prices, as if unaware of the existence of railway communication with the provision markets of the Eastern States, from which large supplies have been constantly shipped to this city, which is now fully supplied with Eastern meats at moderate prices. Meanwhile, parties in Oregon, convinced of the futility of holding longer, are sending their meats here to be sold at moderate figures. The price of California hogs having been unusually high since spring, our principal packers have been compelled to purchase largely of Eastern meats, to protect themselves. The heaviest purchasers in this way have been J. Y. Wilson & Co. and Thomas Cronan & Son, both of which firms have filled army contracts and supplied this market with an excellent quality of Eastern meats, and the U. S. Army Subsistence Department here has actually supplied posts in Oregon with meats packed in this city.

TARRANT'S SELTZER APERIENT.

Sects and Creeds differ, but there are no dissenters from the general belief, that a great medicine is a great blessing. We have many of these blessings, but among them all, in the province to which it belongs, no greater than

TARRANT'S EFFERVESCENT SELTZER APERIENT.

A column would not suffice to enumerate the ailments for which it is prescribed by physicians of the highest standing. It does not belong to the class derisively termed patent medicines, but is an article based on scientific analysis, and will stand the test of the sharpest and most rigid medical criticism as a cathartic, a stomachic, an anti-febrile preparation, and an admiral remedy for all bilious complaints. Let there be no mistake. Secure the genuine article only.

I do not wish to inform you, reader, that Dr. Wonderful, or any other man, has discovered a remedy that cures Consumption, when the lungs are half consumed, in short, will cure all diseases whether of mind, body or estate, make men live forever, and leave death to play for want of work, and is designed to make our sublunary sphere a blissful Paradise, to which Heaven itself shall be but a side show. You have heard enough of that kind of humbuggery. But when I tell you that Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy will positively cure the worst cases of Catarrh in the Head, I only assert that which thousands can testify to. I will pay $500 reward for a case that I cannot cure. A pamphlet giving symptoms and other information sent free to any address. This remedy is

SOLD BY MOST DRUGGISTS IN ALL PARTS OF THE WORLD.

Price 50 cents. Sent by mail, postpaid, on receipt of 60 cents, or four packages for two dollars. Beware of counterfeits and worthless imitations. See that my private Stamp, which is a positive guarantee of genuineness, is upon the outside wrapper. Remember that this private Stamp, issued by the United States Government expressly for stamping my medicines, has my portrait, name and address, and the words "U. S. Certificate of Genuineness" engraved upon it, and need not be mistaken. Don't be swindled by travelers and others, representing themselves as Dr. Sage; I am the only man now living that has the knowledge and right to manufacture the genuine Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy, and I never travel to sell this medicine.
